

College of Veterinary Medicine

Zainab Hussein Alwan

Interdisciplinary Pathobiology, PhD Student

E-mail: ZA0833874@mytu.tuskegee.edu

Advisor: Dr. Ayman I. Sayegh

EDUCATION/TRAINING

Institution and Location	Degree	Graduation Year	Major
College of Health and Medical Technology/Baghdad-Iraq	BSc	1998	Community health techniques
Master of Science Microbiology at the College of Medicine, Al-Mustansiriyah University, Baghdad-Iraq	MSc	2001	Medical Microbiology/virology

RESEARCH

- Prevalence of Herpes simplex virus among infected women
- The use of watery and alcoholic extract of lawzina powder to stain different parasites
- Acute viral hepatitis B
- Prevalence of acute viral hepatitis A
Serological study of Rubella, CMV, HSV in pregnant women with or without history of abortion
- Bacterial contamination in student's cafeteria
- The effect of green tea (Camilla sinensis L.) on blood clotting after tooth extraction
- Evaluation of Baghdad stain for blood and bone marrow films for staining the chromosomes
- Current Research-Study of the effects of peptide therapy and bacterial toxins on inhibition of HIV replication in vitro

SERVICE ACTIVITIES

None